HAWAII AND MAUI POLITICS

MEETING AT HILO TONIGHT

Little Island Said To Be Safe For the Republicans.

Last Horn of Campaign To Be Blown Then.

(Special Correspondence.)
WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 3.—The brilliancy, the activity of the present Parker-Kawananakoa-Wilcox campaign has caused kamaaina to open their eyes with wonder. Whoever heard of so much stump-speaking, so much traveling about, so much action by the different candidates? Why, in old times Honolulu lawyers were accustomed to stand for a district on another island and never once visit their constituents. And then the buttons, the ribbons, the torchlight processions and other political accessories, according to the American model! Why the chartering of steamers hitherto unheard of in Hawaiian politics, is quite frequent of late. Prince David and friends had sole command of the Waialeale this week, and after visiting Molokai, touched at Kahului on the 2d and then departed at 11 p. m. for Hana. Then the Maui Republicans—Messrs. H. P. Baldwin, A. N. Kepoikal, George Hons, Henry Long and others—chartered the Maui and sailed for Kaiaupapa last night, the 2d, at 10 o'clock. All this is very unusual for Hawaii. The only campaign in old times which will bear the least comparison with the present one was in 1886, when the Gibson-Spreckels party controlled island politics. Messrs. L. A. Thurston, W. R. Castle, and W. A. Kinney set out on a stupping tour, to the amazement of the Hawaiian world. Mr. Castle made a lively canvass of Waialuku and Waiehe, and in spite of the strenuous efforts of the Spreckels party, was elected as Representative.

Mr. Thurston went to Molokai and stumped the whole island—even walking the steep path into the Leper Settlement. He addressed and won the vote of the many kokuas—for the lepers themselves were not then allowed to vote. Though footsore and weary and almost shoeless from his hard campaign work, he carried the day on Molokai. Mr. Kinney went to Lanai, where he worked very hard, but was defeated chiefly through the influence of Hon. Sam Parker. Such was the hottest campaign in Hawaiian history previous to the present one.

The Maui is expected with the Republican speakers this afternoon. Tuesday Sam Kaue, F. W. Beckley and other Independents left Keane and during the same day held a meeting in Huelo Church. On the 31st they addressed Pauwela people and on the 2d they held forth at Joseph's house in Paia. Last night the Democrats of Waialuku expected to have been addressed by Lawyer McManahan of Honolulu, but on account of the rain the meeting was not held.

WILCOX WAS HOOTED.
WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 3.—The News says: It is a serious mistake to think that the native party of Maui, the "class generally indicated by the term 'ignorant Hawaiians,' will not think and act for themselves at the approaching election. Were there a rational hope for the restoration of the Queen, there is no doubt but that the majority of them would work and vote to that end. But the Hawaiians of Maui have abandoned all such hope, and are now thinking their way into one or the other of the two leading political parties. This was well illustrated at one of Bob Wilcox's meetings in Lahaina the other day. Bob was waxing eloquent at the loss of the taro patches, and suggested that the time would come when the cane would have to go, and taro would take its place, as of old. No sooner did his native audience grasp his meaning than they revolted at his proposed step backward toward their former condition, and they absolutely hooted him off the rostrum.

SAM PARKER THE MAN FOR ATKINSON
Jack Atkinson, the attorney, denies the rumor that he is affiliated with the Independent party. The rumor has been persistent about the streets in the last few days that he was supporting the Independent candidates, and it was even stated that he was treasurer of the party. "I shall vote for Samuel Parker for Delegate to Congress," said Mr. Atkinson to an Advertiser reporter. "I am that much of a Republican. I believe him to be the best man in the field and the one who will be able to further the interests of Hawaii in Congress. "I will state, however, that as to the candidates for Senators and Representatives, I shall vote for the best man. There are men on the Republican ticket for whom I shall vote, and there are some on the Democratic ticket for whom I will cast my ballot. When the Independent party was organized, my advice was to vote for the best man. I told them whom I considered good men. They even asked me to run, I told them I would not consent to that, but if such men as I have mentioned were nominated I would most certainly vote for them. Their leaders did not choose to follow this advice. That was the only connection I have had with the party. "No, I am a Republican in so far as electing the best men to office is concerned—and I am morally certain that Sam Parker is the best man for Congress."
